JUVENILE ACCESSORIES

While grown-ups must have stockings of different colors for various gowns and occasions, little people, it seems, must have an assortment of socks almost as extensive.

This summer there are numberless pretty styles of socks to choose from. There is the simple, cool-looking red and white and blue and white striped and pin-dotted apray on the fine lawn or hemstitched linen squares chosen for the purposes. It is better not to use a handkerchief with an embroidered pattern all over it, but to choose or make one with the decoration folded over the one corner which will be in contact with the body.

THE TRIBUNE PATTERN. The frock that is made with a high waist line in Empire style is one of the most fashionable just now. Here is a pretty one that can be treated in that way or made plain, as liked. It is just a simple little dress, with shoulder and under-arm seams.

MODES FOR THE LITTLE FOLK.

netly, and there are the handsome, heavy, white ribbed silk ones, with side checking in white or colors. A popular sock—new this season—is made with elastic woven into the top, to hold it up in place.

Quite the thing for the small boy who appears in his smart white blouse or linen suit is a pure white lilac sock which are scattered in red silk dots.

A PERFECT LINGERIE PAD. A simple, inexpensive and most available pad for tucking under the corset to prevent pressure of the bent steel against the breast is, in its most primitive form, nothing more than a handful of soft, white cotton batting, laid cornerwise on a small handkerchief or hemmed square of lawn.

ed to morning wear and to gingham, chambrays and materials of that kind, as well as to lawn. It can be finished with a round or high neck, and with either long or short sleeves. The lower edge is straight, cut, and the very minimum of expense.

The cover can be made as elaborate as one chooses by embroidery of initial or

THE SUNSHINE SOCIETY

In announcing in last Monday's issue that the publication work of the Sunshine Society had been transferred to the People's Home Magazine, beginning with the current issue, it should have been stated that Mrs. Jane Pearce, the secretary, will maintain the society headquarters for a time in Room 714, Tribune Building, and communications will reach her at that address.

seignantly founding can be used to great advantage, and the entire dress made from embroidered flouncing would be extremely pretty.

For a child of two years of age will be required 2 1/2 yards of material 27 inches wide, 3 yards is included for the 4 yards of yards of banding, to make as illustrated, or 2 1/2 yards of flouncing 27 inches wide.

FREE LECTURES FOR WOMEN. The series of summer lectures on women on the recreation piers, under the direction of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, will open this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with a lecture by Miss Winifred Gibbs, instructor in domestic economy for the association, on the pier at the foot of East 112th street.
